

Guest Speakers and Presenters at the 2018 Meridian QVN Camp Aug 25th

Dr. Gary Wobeser - Saturday at Noon for Athletes and Parents

Dr. Gary Wobeser is a world renowned Veterinarian Pathologist and retired Professor from the University of Saskatchewan. He was raised on a mixed farm near Regina and enjoys the prairies for all its beauty and opportunities. Gary was instrumental in getting the “Sask First” program in 1988 in preparation for the first Canada Winter Games for the sport of Biathlon in 1991.

Gary is an accomplished Master’s Biathlete winning medals at numerous Canadian Championships at every category for about 20 years. Gary is a parent of two boys and grandchildren that participate in sport & recreation. Gary was involved in biathlon on many levels including: Administration, Board, Coach, Athlete and Parent.

We are very fortunate to have Gary talk to the parents and guests about the power of sport and the lasting legacy of “citizenship” for athletes during and after their participation in sport. His positive outlook about training for sport is contagious.

Kaylan Berg - Saturday at 2:30 for our Female Athletes

Kaylan Berg, B.Ed of Elementary Education, Canfitpro Certified Personal Trainer Coach & FUN-2-MOVE Sports Development Corp. CEO

Kaylan was exposed to sport and physical activity at a very young age. Growing up on a farm in rural Alberta, she had regular opportunities to participate in community sport programs including volleyball, basketball, softball, track, team handball, as well as outdoor activities such as hiking and canoeing. Her love of sport continued through university where she played varsity women’s volleyball for the MacEwan Griffins, as well as the University of Alberta Pandas. As an adult, she still enjoys participating in both recreational and competitive sport. Kaylan currently is a teacher for Regina Public Schools, and is passionate about both physical education, as well as coaching.

“Sports have had such a positive impact in my life, and it is important to me to provide the same opportunities for youth. I want to empower all kids, especially young girls, to live an active lifestyle. I want to help kids fall in love with sport just as I did!”